

FORECASTS ARE OF MUCH VALUE

Illinois Farmers Highly Pleased With Aid Bulletin Had Been at Planting Time.

ENABLED TO FIGURE AHEAD

With Prediction of Rain Everybody Got Busy With Plowing and Crop Put in Ground Ready to Be Sown and Germinated.

"That the farmers of the country find the weekly weather forecasts of immense value, especially during the growing season, is evidenced by a letter of appreciation recently received by the weather bureau of the United States department of agriculture from an Illinois farmer. He was highly pleased with the aid the forecasts had been to him and his neighbors in planting their corn. In part he wrote:

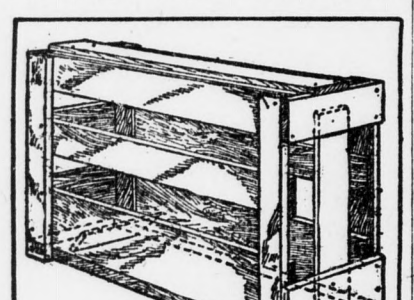

"Of Unfolding Benefit. "These forecasts have been of unfolded benefit to us this year, an unusual backward spring, and we feel greatly indebted to you. With this very reliable and accurate information you are furnishing us we are able to figure ahead and keep planting right up. For instance, this section began plowing for corn last week. When we received your bulletin predicting rain for Tuesday or Wednesday of this week, we got busy with our corn planters, some even turning the faces of their calendars to the wall and letting one Sunday get away from them. To make a long story short, when your predicted rain struck as Tuesday noon and is still coming down this Wednesday morning, it found over one-third of the Illinois corn crop in the ground ready to be sown and germinated. Had we not been put wise by your office our confidence that not one-third would have been planted. While your daily weather reports, made up by your local observer, help out some, they cannot be compared with your weekly forecast sent out from Washington. I have watched it quite close since it began this part of the service five or six years ago, and have found it most reliable and dependable."

Weekly Forecast. In addition to the daily weather forecasts published in practically all newspapers, the weather bureau issues on Saturday of each week a forecast for the six days beginning the following Monday. These forecasts are made for nine separate districts covering practically the entire United States, and necessarily are less specific than the daily forecasts. They are given wide distribution during the growing season, and the letter quoted records but one instance, among many, in which they have proved of great value to farmers.

GOOD MARKET FOR CHICKENS

Minnesota Expert Predicts Strong Demand for All Forms of Poultry This Autumn.

N. E. Chapman, poultry extensionist at University farm, predicts good prices for all forms of poultry this fall, and says that chicks hatched by July 1 will get into the "soft roaster" class, weighing from one and one-half to four pounds each. Mr. Chapman also foresees a strong demand for broilers weighing from one pound to two pounds, to be dressed out and frozen by the packers for winter trade. During the early summer months the expense of feeding can be reduced and a larger percentage of the chickens reared because of more favorable conditions.

SUDAN GRASS YIELD FOR HAY

Average About Two and Half Tons Per Acre—Cut After Plants Have Passed Out of Bloom.

Cut Sudan grass for hay after the plants have passed out of bloom, but before the seed has become hard. An average yield is about two and a half tons of dry hay per acre, as compared with about three tons for sorghum on the same kind of land and two tons of millet.

AUTUMN SUPPLY OF LETTUCE

Now Grown in Middle of August Will Insure Crop of This Most Succulent Vegetable.

A row of lettuce sown the middle of August will insure a fine fall supply of this most beautiful and succulent vegetable. The quality will be even superior to the spring grown. Stimminger is the best kind for late crops.

Fine Ornamental Trees.

There are few trees more ornamental than the crabapple. Varieties like Florence and Virginia are both ornamental and useful for jelly.

Tomatoes may be tied to stakes or put on a trellis to advantage. More plants will be required, but the pruning will give larger fruit.

Observations indicate that sows fed a variety of foods and given plenty of exercise, are not likely to produce litterless pigs.

DECREASE IN NUMBER OF CATTLE AND HOGS

Swine Show Falling Off of 10 Per Cent in Births.

About 22 Per Cent Fewer Births of Calves This Year as Compared With 1919, According to Reports to Federal Bureau.

A falling off in the numbers of cattle and hogs in the United States occurred during the first four months of this year, as compared with the like period last year, according to reports of special livestock reporters of the bureau of crop estimates, United States department of agriculture. In the case of hogs, the births during January, February, March and April were about 10 per cent fewer than in the corresponding months last year. The marketings have fallen off about 15 per cent, the farm slaughter was about the same in both seasons, but the deaths were less.

Of Unfolded Benefit.

"These forecasts have been of unfolded benefit to us this year, an unusual backward spring, and we feel greatly indebted to you. The deaths on farms this year over 40 per cent heavier than last year to May 1. Taking into consideration both the births and the deaths (from all causes), it appears that there has been a 9 per cent greater loss than last year. When David's great son, Christ, shall enter upon his glorious reign, those who have been faithful to him in his rejection shall reign with him. "If we suffer we shall also reign with him" (1 Tim. 2:12). "To him that overcometh I will give with me in my throne, even as I also overcame, and am set down with my father in his throne." (Rev. 3:21).

David's Behavior Toward the Men of Jabesh-Gilead (2:47).

The men of Jabesh owed much to Saul (1 Sam. 11), and they showed their recognition of David by making a daring dash to rescue his body from the ignominious exposure at Beth-lehem. David's act of sending men to bury his father's body was a noble gesture. His love for the unfortunate king survived all the injuries which he suffered at his hands. He forgave and forgot them all. This was a very noble quality. He was a generous man. In fact the only quality which proves effective is that which proceeds from a generous heart. He deftly follows this generous commendation with a soliloquy for the men of Jabesh to transfer his body to himself, since he is now their king. Since Saul is now dead, he urges them to be valiant for him. In view of the civil war which was to follow he knew it would require valiant men to stand by God's king. This appeal to the men of Jabesh was a noble one. All we are called upon to take sides between God's appointed king, Jesus Christ, and Satan, the prince of this world. May Christ's appeal result in making us faithful and valiant for him.

KEEP YOUNG CALF IN STABLE

Youngster Suffers From Heat and Flies and Does Not Seem Able to Care for Itself.

The young calf suffers from heat and flies and does not seem to be able to look out for itself. During this period, the calf is best kept in the barn or at most allowed to run in a dry lot near the barn part of the day.

RAPID GROWTH OF CHICKENS

More Advantageous to Feed Five Times During Day Than Three—Over-feeding Harmful.

Undoubtedly chickens will grow faster when fed five times than when fed only three times daily, but it should be borne in mind that more food can be done to the young chicks by overfeeding than by underfeeding.

Hay Cut Too Early.

When hay is cut too early growth is sacrificed, of course, and the amount of nutrients which the plant contains is lower comparatively than at the flowering stage.

The Joyful Harvest.

Jesus says to all of us, "Ye are distracted about many things, but one thing is needful. Seek ye first the kingdom of God." Many say things to the right proportion, and when the Master was present the most important thing was to hear his words. She also saw that there are times for all things and so we ought to see that there are times when all other things ought to be left aside and put out of mind, and give ourselves to earnest communion with Christ. That takes the fret and worry out of life, for we come to understand that "one thing is needful."

Not Prominent.

"What became of the Gawkings girl?" "She went into the movies." "A queen of the films now?" "No, a queen of the headlines. She's among those present when the star appears in a bathroom scene."

Legal Advice.

"I object to familiarity. What can I do if a man persists in calling me old top?" "Hum," said the absent-minded lawyer, going into a brown study.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

LESSON FOR JULY 25

DAVID SUCCEEDED SAUL AS KING.

LESSON TEXT.—1 Sam. 24:7-14. GOLDEN TEXT.—Trust in the Lord with all thy heart, and lean not upon thine own understanding. Prov. 3:5-6. ADDITIONAL MATERIAL.—1 Sam. 1:1-10; 1 Sam. 13:1-14; 1 Sam. 24:1-14. PRIMARY TOPIC.—The Shepherd Boy Becomes a King. INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC.—The Secret of David's Success. YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC.—True Success and How to Win It.

The death of Saul lay open to David the path to the throne. This was what he had desired. He had longed for the heart of Saul, but David was not content with that. He was given to the slayer of Saul, quick vengeance was executed upon him.

1. David Made King Over Judah (24:1-4).

He knew full well that the Lord by the hand of Samuel had anointed him to be the successor of Saul. He had learned the essential lesson which the School of Providence was designed to teach, namely, that the position open to him was no easy one to fill. His exile and sufferings gave him self-control. He had the good sense to know that to attempt to do the same did but bring "harder duties and multiplied perplexities." He threw himself upon God and asked for guidance. He rendered instant obedience to the Lord's answer. If we are to enjoy God's fellowship and blessing we must render quick obedience. He made a right beginning, therefore God prospered him. When he reached Hebron the men of Judah came and anointed him king over them. Thus a part of the nation recognized him as king and ratified the work which Samuel did many years before. When David went up to be with him in all who had been with him in exile and suffering. They are now with him in the kingdom. When David's great son, Christ, shall enter upon his glorious reign, those who have been faithful to him in his rejection shall reign with him. "If we suffer we shall also reign with him" (1 Tim. 2:12). "To him that overcometh I will give with me in my throne, even as I also overcame, and am set down with my father in his throne." (Rev. 3:21).

He made a right beginning, therefore God prospered him. When he reached Hebron the men of Judah came and anointed him king over them. Thus a part of the nation recognized him as king and ratified the work which Samuel did many years before. When David went up to be with him in all who had been with him in exile and suffering. They are now with him in the kingdom. When David's great son, Christ, shall enter upon his glorious reign, those who have been faithful to him in his rejection shall reign with him. "If we suffer we shall also reign with him" (1 Tim. 2:12). "To him that overcometh I will give with me in my throne, even as I also overcame, and am set down with my father in his throne." (Rev. 3:21).
